Quite a pleasant little party assembled hastevening to partake of a green turtle supper at the establishment of Washington's popular restaurateur. Mr. Schastian Aman, who served the repast with his usual anexcelled calinary capacity. The occasion was the participation and discussion of portions of a deilelous turtle presented by Col. F. N. Wicker, Collector of Castoms at Cedar Keys, Florida. The party consisted of Col. James Carrie, of Florida; Col. John Rudd, Mr. Clarence Barton, Mr. Douglas and Mr. Frank P. Morgan, of this city. The affair passed off very pleasantly.

James S. Stokis, a white nam, went to Somerville's tonnery on Thirteenth street, below Pennsylvania avenue, last night, and attempted to unlock the door, whereupon he was arrested on the charge of house-breaking. Stokes explained to His Honor Snell that he had been drinking, and was on his way to Johnson's paint shop and was trying to unlock the door of the wrong establishment by mistake, and had brooken the glass because he was unable to get the door open. Judge Snell took no stock in this theory, and advised Stokes to try the right door when discharged from cuistody ninety days hence.

The marriage of Mr. John Cropper, of New York, and Miss Anne McLane took place at the Church of the Ascension yesterday at Sp. m., Rev. Dr. Elliott, the pastor, officiating. Boys' Clothing.

There was never at any time in Washington as complete an assortment of children's clothing as is now at B. Robinson & Co.'s, 909 Pennsylvania avenue. The prices are undoubtedly reasonable, and parents should not neglect the opportunity to clothe their children handsomely at little cost.

Mrs. Christiancy's Adventure Last Night.

Mrs. Christiancy's Adventure Last Night.

Mrs. Lillie L. Christiancy created a genuine sensation last night that made the scenes and developments in her divorces suit grow small in comparison, and which caused considerable excitement in the neighborhood where it occurred. It is said by her friends that she was suffering under a temporary abstration of the mind. It was only a few minutes after 9 o'clock that James Hughes, the colored janitor of the Tolice Court, who resides in that building, was called down stairs by his little daughter, who urged him to go across the street to the assistance of a woman who, with nothing but her underclothing on, and barcheaded, was coming along Louisiann avenue toward D street. Hughes hurried out, and as he approached the woman he discovered that she was tearing her hair wildly and acting very mitch like an insane person. Hughes broke into a run, and seized the woman as she was about ascending the steps leading to the office of Cook and Cole, her attorneys. As Hughes placed his hand on her shoulder the woman turned her wild, scared face toward him, and he discovered, to his amazement, that it was Mrs. Christiancy. Hughes calledon Chattering with cold, and still frantically tearing her hair and gouging her eyes, the unfortunate woman was placed in the carriage which quickly arrived, and was at once driven back to the residence of her father, Mr. Lugenbeel, three squares away. The family in the meantime had discovered her sudden departure, and, almost crazed, the father set out in search of her and met the carriage driving toward his house. Mrs. Christiancy was taken to her room and medical assistance was summoned. A BRUTE AT LARGE.

Another Attempted Ontrage on Capi-tol Hill.

Another addition has been made to the long list of flendish attempts at outrage upon unprotected females in our city.

Last Monday night, Miss Bertha Hoffman, an estimable German girl about 20 years old, residing at 1425 II street northeast, left her home about 7 o'clock to make a visit to a friend, and while walking along Maryland avenue, near Tenth street, was a visit to a friend, and while walking along Marylaud avenue, near Tenth street, was approached by a nearo man, who asked her to direct him to H street. This she did, and started to continue on her journey, when the asked her to accompany him, saying he feared he could not find the street. The negro's actions led the young lady to believe that he meant mischief, and she turned that he meant mischief, and she turned quickly and walked hastily away toward Green's statue. The black flend followed, and, running up behind her, caught her around the waist and attempted to drag her to a vacant lot near by. Miss Hoffman sercamed lustily for help, but the beast did not desist, knowing probably that a policeman is never seen after dark within a mile of that place.
